- ✓ Accelerating and amplifying environmental health knowledge and practices that affect the children of South Africa
- ✓ Investing in children's health through promoting awareness on healthy environments for children
- ✓ Reduce ill-health caused by Environmental factors amongst children, and to promote literature about children's environmental health.
- ✓ Initiating and collaborating with other organisations on knowledge exchange on children's Environmental health issues and public health challenges
- ✓ Providing incentives to interested parties in the promotion of Children's Environmental

ABOUT US

Centre for Children's Environmental Health of South Africa (CCEHSA) is a non-profit organisation founded in South Africa (SA), established in the year 2020. The organisation caters for children of SA, especially the disadvantaged between the ages of 0-18 to bring positive change in their lives by improving their health. The establishment of this organisation was founded on an interest in engaging with various government structures with the aim of supporting promotion of children's environmental health in the local and international scale. Our main objective is to reduce the environmental exposure to a number of environmental risk factors where children live, learn, and play through varied programs that help them to grow in a healthy environment and sustainable community.

CCEHSA STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES

- Promote research in children's Environmental Health.
- Promote the concept and knowledge of children's environmental health matters amongst EHP's
- Fundraising to enable advocacy and promotion of our strategic objectives
- Establish an effective communication platform to promote CCEHSA with all identified stakeholders
- Advocate for Children's Environmental health to be included in curricula
- Promote knowledge by Early Childhood Developmental Centers and Schools on children's environmental health matters.
- Establish partnerships with relevant Stakeholders.
- Identifying Provincial coordinators to facilitate our work in all Provinces
